O Alma Mater Fordham,
fondly we call thy name.
Where Wisdom grew,
while Knowledge grew
and friendship grew the same.
And in the years that are to be,
May life and love be true to me,
O Fordham Alma Mater
As I am true to thee.

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF LAW
NED DOYLE BUILDING

May 12, 1993

For a few hours on May 12, 1993, the President of the United States accompanied by an entourage of White House staff members, the Press Corps, and Secret Service Agents, occupied the halls and offices of Fordham Law School. Dean Feerick's office was designated "The New York Oval Office," where the President conducted the Nation's business.

Earlier in the day, President Clinton gave an address downtown, and in the evening he attended a fundraiser for the Democratic National Committee at Lincoln Center. Despite his busy schedule, the President took the time to meet with a number of the Law School's staff and students. As pictured above, the President was presented with a Fordham Law sweatshirt and baseball cap as souvenirs of his visit.

Follies

The Fordham Follies (pronounced fah-lees) is the premier theatre organization recognized by the law school community (needless to mention, the only one). Each year this makeshift band of young thespians, who are generally a little long on enthusiasm and short on talent, tirelessly toils to create a musical gala (not to be confused with another Fordham organization) that memorializes various experiences within and without the law school, always treading that fine line between truthfulness and tastelessness.

The Follies would like to note that they realize that certain members of the faculty and student body may strongly disapprove of the way the cast portrayed them or their colleagues. We remind these people of the immortal words carefully chosen by the great Yogi Berra: Qui tacit consentire videtur, ubi tractetur de ejus commodo (he who is silent is considered as assenting, when his interest is at stake). Please speak up next time.

Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship

The Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship's (FSSF) annual Goods and Services Auction raises funds for students who wish to pursue public interest summer jobs but can not afford to live on meager salaries. The excitement surrounding the auction, which is the largest fund-raising event of any law school in the country, elicits some unusual donations and bids. For example, Irish soda bread sold for $1,500 and dinner with Professor Kainen sold for $500 while lunch with Rudolph Guiliani only went for $400 (pre 1993 Mayoral election).

The Fellowship Committee: Front: Lisa Lazarus, Meryl Napach. Back: Edward Hosp, Rachael Pomerantz, Cory Flashner.

Former Mayor Ed Koch, shown here with Professor Katsoris and auctioneer Bernadette Castro, donated a lunch at the '21 Club which sold for $700.

Professor Sims encourages the audience to bid higher.

Fordham Law Women

This year Fordham Law Women (FLW) participated in the celebration of 75 years of women at the law school. FLW commemorated this event by sponsoring various panel discussions, including a discussion led by women judges and other successful women who graduated from Fordham chronicling seven decades of achievement. FLW also sponsored an annual alumnae reception and "brown bag" discussions on a variety of topics affecting women in the law.

To laugh often and much;
To win the respect of intelligent people
and affection of children;
To earn the appreciation of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty, to find the best in others;
To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
To know even one life has breathed easier
because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.
